

With An Attitude of Gratitude, Our thanks to SACWN's subscribers and supporters.

First, a personal story: In 1996, as I considered accepting a job offer and relocating to Sacramento, I asked an old colleague living in Sacramento to send me information about the lesbian community in the area. Checking the phone book, she located the SACWN organization and arranged to have a newsletter sent, which she forwarded on to me. Receiving this newsletter aided me in my decision to leave my Santa Barbara position and head northward. Within days of pulling into town, with no acquaintances in the gay community, I was going to parties and activities, meeting many new friends, and settling in.

What if SACWN had not been in the phone listings as a public organization available to any and all through a simple phone call? What if there had been no newsletter informing me of special interest groups and fun activities? My decision might have been a different one. Certainly my experience as a woman new to Sacramento would have been less easy.

As we look over the past year and remember all the fun times, we are incredibly grateful to SACWN, the women who have membership in SACWN, and the volunteers who work behind the scenes to create the events we all enjoy.

A variety of happy faces have been seen at Suzanne Westenhoefer, picnics in the park, dances at Joseph's, the SACWN Social at Faces, or participating in one or more of the many special interest groups. There seems to be something for everyone ...from poker to gardening, from camping to ballroom dance and more. And, if you think of a group you wish were there, feel free to get it started with the help of SACWN newsletter publicity.

The gratitude that is felt for the women who support SACWN with their membership and their presence at events cannot be fully expressed. Joining SACWN performs an incredible service for our community as we continue to fulfill our mission to provide lesbians with social activities in a safe and vibrant environment, a supportive network, and resources to link our diverse community

We look forward to year 2000 with great excitement. The Valentine's Ball at the beautiful Portuguese Hall will be fantastic! A wide variety of other appealing activities are also in the works. Our membership goal for 1999 was 200. We achieved that goal and hope to surpass it for this millennium year. The women of the Sacramento area deserve the very best. Every person who makes the decision to join us in this endeavor by becoming a member and participating in SACWN events helps to build a stronger community for all. With your help, we can do it.

COMMITTEES

Activities Committee--Anna (344-0386)
Newsletter Committee--Nancy (452-6007)
Membership Committee--Sue (944-7055)
Special Interest Groups ("SIGs")--unassigned

Women who want to participate in the operation of SACWN are encouraged to contact any of the above listed committee coordinators.

The Newsletter Committee is currently in need of two editors, writers, graphic artists proficient in Word for Windows and proof readers. If you previously indicated an interest in these areas on your subscription application, expect a call from Nancy this month asking for your assistance.

If you wish to advertise your business in the newsletter, call Nancy for information about single issue and annual (six issue) rates.

The Membership Committee will send renewal letters to all current members this month. If you have already renewed or will renew using the subscription application at the back of this newsletter, our heart-felt thanks for your support and please just ignore the reminder.

After the rush of preparations for the Valentine's Dance are completed, the Activities Committee will finalize the activities plan for the remainder of the year. Look for the results of their work in the next newsletter.

Steering Committee Changes

After over a year of participation, two members of our Steering Committee have resigned their positions this month. Dee is leaving us to concentrate on her other interests. Her work for SACWN this past year included coordination and communications with the Special Interest Groups (SIG's), contributions of articles for the newsletter, data input for our contacts database and assistance in most of the activities produced by SACWN in 1999. Dee will continue her participation with the Arts and Entertainment SIG.

oversaw the production of the SACWN booth and created decorations for picnics and dances, as well as assiting many 1999 SACWN endeavors.

Both Dee and Pheonix will be missed by the Steering Committee but we are pleased that they will continue their affiliation with SACWN. We expect to see them this year as participants rather than producers of SACWN's year 2000 activities.

At the last Steering Committee meeting we welcomed three new members to the Committee. They are Dawn, Linda and Diana. A fourth volunteer, Lupe, will be joining us next month. These women have made a commitment to the SACWN mission and bring our number up to ten, just three shy of the thirteen leaders we envision for the committee.

Phoenix is making major career changes. She will be studying law with the intention of becoming a paralegal and working part time. This leaves her insufficient time to volunteer as extensively as she has this past year. Phoenix has contributed significantly to SACWN's 1999 activities. She SACWN's main source of revenue is subscriptions. We are continuing with the policy that we established last year that subscriptions are from February to January of each year. New subscribers who join during the intervening months may prorate their dues. Please note that each subscription is by household rather than by individual. These policies allow us to streamline our records and reduce volunteer hours spent keeping track of you.

Regular and limited income subscription rates are now reduced as a result of lower operating expenses. Our fully volunteer organization structure makes this possible. Also, with increased visibility and affordable rates we anticipate more subscribers this year.

We have made a commitment to keep the costs of our events low. Three of last year's event were free. This means that the nominal expenses for these events were paid for by your subscriptions. The other events were self supporting and actually added funds to the organization. As a "not for profit" corporation, our events are intended to provide a service to our subscribers and to the lesbian community, rather than to "turn a profit."
